THE TURF.

Fresh Occurrence to Re-point a Moral that Is Old.

WILL THE BOARD TAKE HEED?

The Lesson: One-Owner Horses Should Be Bunched in Betting.

At the Spring meeting of the Brooklyn Jockey Club Messrs. J. A. & A. H. Morris started Russell and Terrier in a stake race. Terrier was believed by the racing public to be the best of the pair, and they backed their judgment accordingly. Just before the horses went to the post, a notice was posted on the blackboard announcing that the Messrs. Morris had declared to win with Russell. They did win with Russell, but Terrier had to be pulled to let him capture the prize.

There was an outcry on the part of the public, and it was a justifiable one. They had been unfairly treated. Those who bet on Terrier had no chance to win their money.

It was lost as utterly as though it had been thrown into the sea. Then and there THE EVENING WORLD, on behalf of the public, suggested that the Board of Control could adopt a rule which would do away with such disagreeable occurrences in the future. To do this the Board had simply to order that when two horses from one stable started in a race together they should be coupled in the betting. No heed was given to this suggestion.

The members of the Board decried it above being told their duty. Again, again, again.

THE EVENING WORLD brought the matter to the public's notice, particularly when U.S. Grands and Rey Del Rey started in a race together at Sheepshead, the latter being favorite and the former winning at long odds. Had the Board of Control adopted this rule then, the disagreeable and remarkable incident of last Saturday would have been avoided.

The incident of Saturday was this: Doggett, second jockey in the McTeer's stable, rode San Juan. Isaac Murphy, first jockey in the same stable, had a bad fall, and his horses started by the Hackensack Handicap. The public, which can only judge which is the best horse in the race, figured San Juan was the winner with Rey Del Rey at Jerome Park a few days previous made him the best of the pair. They backed him accordingly.

The crowd was struck dumb with amazement. It gathered about the judges' stand. "They must be crazy," it said. "No one knows what has happened on the crowd.

After a long delay the Board of Stewards finally declared all bets off. It was a popular decision, and the crowd cheered.

Regarding the justness of the decision of the Board of Stewards there has been much comment. The writer is inclined to side with the Board, and believes that they did only what was right under the circumstances. There were hundreds of people who backed San Juan, believing him to be the better of the two. They were right, but Rey Del Rey's riding, etc., could not hold up on Rey Del Rey, because he had secured first place through that robbery.

Those who have been disgruntled, it is true, but who would have been first, second and third. The judges only place our horses. In view of all these circumstances the Board of Control is not in a position to make some of its judgment will believe with him, that the Board of Stewards did the best thing under the circumstances, could they have done anything else.

The matter has been referred to the Board of Control. Doggett has already admitted that he was not to blame. He has no desire to do so from Trainer Matt Allen. An example should be made of Trainer Matt Allen. He is a good and experienced trainer.

He knew that no horse had been made, and he knew that he was doing wrong if he did, as Doggett says, tell the jockey to put San Juan in the lead. He knew, however, that San Juan was the better of the pair. The Board of Control should go to the bottom of the matter.

The Monmouth Park Association races but three days this week. This has given rise to the rumor that a compromise had been brought about with the Jockey Club. This is not true. The latter has refused to compromise.

THE EVENING WORLD on Saturday typed five of the six straight winners at Morris Park.

J. M. Young & Co. will send their crack filly East This Fall to race at Sheepshead Bay.

Perhaps the Board of Control will now adopt a rule which will bring the horses from one stable when in the same race to be sold as a stable in the betting.

AN EDICT OF STARVATION.

The Order Closing the British Lobster Factories of Newfoundland.

(By ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

ST. GEORGE, N. Y., July 13.—Sir Baldwin Walker's proclamation closing the British lobster factories along the coast of Newfoundland is practically an edict of starvation to hundreds of people.

The chief source of the west coast are absolutely dependent upon the fishery.

The French Admiral does not claim that a single one of these factories interferes with the fisheries, but says that they are violators of the modus vivendi and must therefore close down.

It is supposed by many that he was the victim of assassination by high-liners.

Other persons say that he was a common mugger, who was reported to have come as far as Durban and was then lost sight of.

FOUL PLAY AT FAIR PLAY.

Two Men Murdered and Robbed on the Old Leadville Stage Route.

(By ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

FAIR PLAY, Colo., July 13.—In a lonely ravine a few miles from town, two men were killed on Saturday night and robbed. The dead men had been engaged in a struggle for the control of the stage route.

There are evidences of a terrible struggle in the roadway and blood on the mountain side and the bullet wounds in each body show that the robbers were well armed.

A number of suspicious characters have been lurking about the locality of late, which was the favorite haunt of highwaymen when the stages ran to Leadville.

HELP WANTED—MALE.

WANTED: Energetic married man, 27 to 30, with some general business ability, to enter into a partnership with me, and to take charge of others. Apply personally to Mr. Clegg.

WANTED: An old-established business house wanted, with a limited possession, having less qualifications, to bear the outdoor part of the business. Apply personally to Mr. Clegg.

The author of the reporter Mrs. Clegg raised her husband, and he sent out a statement that the story of his assailing Cleggton was false in every particular.

STOCK REPORTS.

Wall Street Business in a State Approaching Stagnation.

Rumors of More Gold Shipments Have Slight Effect.

Sugar Trust Shares Score a Decline —The Quotations.

Speculation at the Stock Exchange continues dull. The market opened this morning slightly lower, and then improved about 15 to 34 per cent., Burlington & Quincy, St. Paul, Big Four, Lake Shore and New England leading.

Latter, weakness set in and the gain noted was lost, owing to rumors of fresh gold shipments. The sterling exchange market is hardening again and discounts are also higher in London.

The sales of listed stocks up to midday were only 51,000 shares.

The Court of Appeals has reaffirmed the decision of lower courts that cannot be reached by an attachment, through lawsuits. The decision is on appeal in the case of Henry C. Bowen against the New York Stock Exchange, which was won after a consolidation with the New York Stock Exchange.

Mr. Bowen undertook to attach the membership of the New York Stock Exchange, and afterwards did levy an execution on that same membership and went through the form of selling the seat. Then Mr. Bowen sold it to the New York Stock Exchange for damages.

Stocks in the late trading were weak for American Sugar, Remond, and Standard Oil, and the market was quiet. The decline in sugar was equal to 14 per cent., while the other shares gained about 14 to 24 per cent.

The market was dull almost to stagnation, and for the first quarter of the last hour of business the transactions did not average one a minute.

The slight improvement near the close was due to the covering of short contracts by the "pickers" who had sold on the unfounded rumor.
